Acknowledgement of Country

Deakin University acknowledges the Traditional Custodians of all the unceded lands, skies and waterways on which Deakin students, staff and communities come together. As we learn and teach through virtually and physically constructed places across time, we pay our deep respect to the Ancestors and Elders of Wadawurrung Country, Eastern Maar Country and Wurundjeri Country, where our physical campuses are located. We also acknowledge the many First Nations from where students join us online and make vital contributions to our learning communities.

Your future in communications and creative arts

Tailor your studies to your interests

Complement your major area of study with other communications and creative arts disciplines to give you an edge in the market and the skills to take your career in many directions. You'll also have the chance to collaborate with students across other arts disciplines, broadening your understanding and expertise, to graduate as a well-rounded practitioner.

Enjoy state-of-the-art facilities

Discover what's possible in our specialty learning spaces. Access a range of resources, including our:

- Deakin Studios (Burwood) – our virtual production, television, film, and animation studio
- television broadcast studio with live-streaming capability
- green-screen studio
- editing and grading suites

- stop motion animation suites
- sound studio
- professional photographic light studio
- digital photographic printing and editing facilities
- darkroom and film scanning facilities
- visual arts and design studios
- gallery and presentation spaces
- professional live performance theatre venue and dance studios, complemented by black box rehearsal spaces
- wardrobe and costume department
- collaborative news production area with an editorial hub.

Communications and creative arts students at our Melbourne Burwood Campus will benefit from a state-of-the-art virtual production, television, film and animation studio, specialist creative studios and media labs, as well as the chance to showcase work in the innovative Phoenix Gallery, well suited to mixed-media and pop-up installations.

Experience our immersive precinct

In the Nyaal immersive learning precinct at the Geelong Warrn Ponds Campus, there are opportunities to learn in collaborative new ways and experience concepts, locations and global topics that are usually inaccessible in a classroom environment. The cutting-edge, interactive learning precinct includes a 360-degree theatre, collaborative think tank and event space.

#1 Victorian university for course satisfaction

Year on year, Deakin's students have the highest course satisfaction rate of all Victorian universities.¹ We've ranked this highly for the past 14 years, with our students being particularly happy with our:

- teaching
- learning resources
- student support
- skills development
- learner engagement.

Your future in communications and creative arts

Gain industry experience

Our graduates hit the ground running thanks to work-integrated learning. You can take up an internship as part of your degree to add to your portfolio, while gaining valuable industry contacts and experience. For example, our communications students secure firsthand broadcasting, radio or print experience with metropolitan and regional media outlets in their internships and can see their work published on the Dscribe news website (dscribe.net.au) throughout their degree. Meanwhile, design students build on their skills working on designs for not-for-profit clients in their final year, giving them real-world experience to become job-ready. Visual art students generate work for public art festivals, and work with industry professionals staging exhibitions.

You can also gain global experience with an international internship, exchange, study tour or volunteer placement. Get a competitive edge and gain credit towards your degree by studying overseas at one of Deakin's partner universities, in more than 40 countries.

Access professional equipment

Whatever your practice, we'll equip you with the skills and tools to craft compelling stories to affect meaningful change. Borrow professional equipment from our comprehensive Media Resource Centre, including lighting and professional audio gear, digital video cameras and SLR cameras for projects and practice. We have a team of technicians on staff to provide support and expertise. Deakin has an extensive range of professional digital cameras that are the choice for the world's best filmmakers and photographers.

Learn from leaders in their field

Our academic staff will inspire, encourage and support you at every stage of your studies. Staff are experienced industry professionals who are enthusiastic about sharing their skills and knowledge and providing you with valuable industry insights.

Just some of the organisations our experienced academic staff have worked with include:

- Australian Broadcasting Corporation (ABC)
- Australian Centre for the Moving Image (ACMI)
- Australian Football League (AFL)
- European Cultural Centre
- Foxtel
- Geelong Arts Centre
- Malthouse Theatre
- Melbourne International Animation Festival
- Melbourne Fringe Festival
- Melbourne Women in Film Festival
- Melbourne Writer's Festival
- National Gallery of Victoria (NGV)
- Overland literary journal
- SBS
- Sydney Theatre Company
- Telstra Australia
- World Design Organisation.

Be rewarded for your hard work

A Deakin scholarship is more than just a financial boost. It is our chance to acknowledge your accomplishments and reward your hard work, setting you on the path to success at university. Our extensive scholarship program includes three key scholarships:

- Vice-Chancellor's Academic Excellence Scholarship
- Deakin Scholarship for Excellence
- Deakin Student Support Scholarship.

We also offer a range of donor and government-funded scholarships. Each is unique with differing criteria, rewarding aspiring students from diverse backgrounds.

Get practical experience

Get hands-on experience creating animated effects and environments for use in live action and animated productions by accessing and learning from our virtual production technology. Our academics are accomplished and practising creative professionals, so not only will you work with the best technology around, you'll learn from the best too.

Design your future career

We understand creatives are expressive and innate storytellers. That's why we are committed to offering diverse, industry-informed disciplines, so you can specialise in areas you're passionate about to develop your communications and creative arts practices.

Our innovative course design has a built-in focus for your future career. You have the opportunity to develop an entrepreneurial, freelance mindset and leadership skills through experimental, reflective and divergent practice. You can explore a range of mediums to express your truth, make a difference and realise your creative dreams.

Nurture your passion, develop your practice

Create your unique professional identity by combining the choice of disciplines relevant to you. From advertising, animation, communication design and creative writing, to journalism, photography, visual arts, and more – your options are diverse. Forge your path to being a valuable contributor to tomorrow's narrative.

- 1 Students must also complete: DAI001 Academic Integrity and Respect at Deakin (0-credit-point compulsory unit) in their first study period.
- 2 At least one major must be chosen from the enrolled SCCA course majors.
- 3 One major (8 credit points) from the Creative Arts majors.

Prepare for your future career

Design a future career you love from day one. Personalise your degree by combining specific majors and minors that appeal to you and your future career interests – with more than 30 fields to choose from. Our new program has a core stream dedicated to career-readiness with the introduction of Your Future Career units. You'll engage with the creative community and industry through individually tailored work placement and networking opportunities, allowing you to develop leadership skills and the entrepreneurial mindset to make your mark in a career you love.

Disciplines

Take a look through our disciplines to choose your area of expertise. Knowing which discipline you're interested in helps career advisers find the best course for you. Corresponding courses are featured in the following pages, so you can learn more about what you'll study, available work experience opportunities and the types of careers you could pursue. Once you have chosen a course, you can then pick which discipline to specialise in within that course.

Visit deakin.edu.au/create for detailed discipline and course information, including a description of the units within each degree.

Communications

Advertising

Designed to inspire the next generation of 'big idea' thinkers, this study area will give you the skills to understand complex audiences, analyse media effectiveness and hone your creative thinking. Prepare for the challenges and excitement of developing incisive brand communication for the digital era as you work across real-world projects and connect with advertising practitioners.

Digital and social media

Cut through the noise and add value for audiences and clients as a digital and social media professional. You will create a portfolio of podcasts, blogs, videos, infographics and more, while exploring big data and analytics, virtual and augmented realities, artificial intelligence and gamification. You will connect to industry from day one onward, building your professional-personal brand and producing real-world digital and social media content. You'll also have the opportunity to undertake an internship.

Journalism

Tell stories that matter and build a portfolio of work to launch your future in the fast-evolving news media industries. Taking a hands-on approach, you'll have opportunities to unearth stories, source interviews, and write and produce news packages that engage, entertain and inspire audiences on print, online, video and audio platforms. Make your voice heard on Deakin journalism's news website, DScribe (dscribe.net.au), and kickstart your career with a sought-after internship with one of our industry partners.

Cross-disciplinary learning

Our courses allow you to collaborate with students across disciplines. Explore complementary skills and maximise your career opportunities. Choose from units in:

- art and design
- communication
- film, television and animation
- writing, literature and culture.

Public relations

Build and protect the reputation of brands, people and organisations with skills developed through Deakin's public relations. Learn how innovative and ethical communication fosters meaningful relationships with stakeholders and discover what it takes to create inspiring campaigns and events for real clients, respond to issues, manage crises and become an adaptive communications expert.

Disciplines

Creative arts

Dance

Immerse yourself in the exciting physical, social and conceptual possibilities of contemporary dance. Learn how the art of contemporary dance intersects with creativity, innovative thinking, community enrichment and technology. Study the diverse ways in which dance can engage and make a difference. In the studio setting, core studies in technique, choreography, history and theory are complemented by work with digital technologies and other creative arts disciplines.

Photography

Study photography as a 21st-century tool for connectivity. Accessing professional-grade facilities and equipment, you'll develop skills in chemical and digital imaging, professional lighting, portfolio creation, project management, visual communication, experimental practices, and exhibition and online collaboration. Be inspired by guest speakers and professional practitioners as you undertake fieldwork and create your own exhibitions.

Theatre

Become a versatile and agile theatre practitioner equipped with the tools to kick-start your independent theatre career. You will be challenged to develop physical, creative and intellectual capacities through practice-based learning, while also exploring history and theory, and working with digital technologies and other creative arts disciplines. In a studio setting, you'll develop core skills in acting, improvisation, collaborative theatre creation, dramaturgy, dramatic text analysis, rehearsal techniques, and site-specific and applied performance.

Visual arts

Visual arts combines in-depth disciplinary training in drawing, painting, 3D construction and fabrication, and digital technologies alongside a sequence of open-ended studio-based studies encouraging cross-disciplinary and interdisciplinary thinking. Gain both the practical studio skills and adaptable critical thinking skills necessary to participate successfully in the global art world and making and creative industries.

Writing

Develop the creative and technical skills for a career in writing. Building on an introductory foundation of writing fundamentals, you will progress to specific forms and genres in writing (including fiction, creative nonfiction, scriptwriting, life writing, and writing for games), culminating in a writing project of a commercially viable length.

Design

Design can drive business through innovation, as well as facilitate positive change in society. Learn the tools, strategies and design thinking methodologies needed to be an adaptable multidisciplinary designer.

Communication design

Gain proficiency in the techniques and strategies required to harness the fundamental building blocks of design to produce useful and impactful real-world solutions. From key theoretical foundations, you'll work across typography, information design, user interface, branding, environmental and strategic design, developing critical skills with the potential to influence inclusive solutions meeting global industry needs. By collaborating with peers and industry you'll develop insight into today's world of complex systems involving people, machines and services. This equips you to lead creatively making a positive impact in the rapidly changing field of design.

Interactive and UX¹ design

Gain the knowledge and skills to become a competitive, proficient, and agile designer ready for the fast pace of technological change by adapting to today's complex systems for people, machines, and services. Master game engines and design software taking control of real-world industry projects guided by industry experts and design practitioners. Learn how to be a responsive designer of human-computer interactions by engaging technology, user patterns, behaviour psychology and design iterations where you'll produce practical, inclusive and innovative design solutions. With the Interactive and UX Design sequence, you'll be immersed in the techniques and strategies of digital interaction ready and equipped to practice how usability, prototyping, and engagement combine to determine best-practice industry-based results.

¹ UX means 'user experience'.

Film, television and animation

The ubiquity of screens and the moving image in a networked world offers opportunities to create impact across many screen forms and genres to engage audiences. Explore your creative potential in contemporary screen culture and production processes, from inception to exhibition, utilising our professional technology.

Animation

Animation is about imbuing characters and other forms with movement, life and story. Animation is also a very effective way to communicate diverse information and ideas in creative and dynamic ways. Gain an understanding of the history, theory and practice to creatively and intelligently bring your designs to life through many forms of animation ranging from stop motion to 2D and 3D animation, and in a wide range of contexts, spanning short films and micro content to 3D virtual worlds in game spaces and virtual production.

Screen development

Explore key areas of storytelling and screenwriting such as story structures, developing characters, action, and genre; screen business including producing, distribution, marketing, and exhibition; and screen culture with a focus on film festivals, audiences and celebrity. You have the opportunity to develop your story concepts and ideas from their initial stages through to a capstone screenwriting project, collaborating with your fellow students through drafting processes to pitch your story for future production.

Screen production

Develop key creative, technical and critical skills to apply to a variety of screen productions from film to television to online formats. You will delve into key creative roles such as directing as well as cinematography, production design, sound design and post-production. You also have the opportunity to work in fiction and factual styles, as well as crew on fellow students' productions, screenplays and the capstone project.

Disciplines

Writing and literature

English – Children’s literature¹

Discover the world of children’s literature through the study of picture books, junior fiction, young adult novels and much more. You will gain insights into the history of children and childhood, the creative processes involved in writing for young people and how children’s literature intersects with important ideas about identity, politics and culture. Studying children’s literature is a pathway to becoming a writer, as well as work in education, librarianship and the creative industries.

English – Creative writing¹

Explore narrative-driven works, experimental innovations, creative nonfiction and scriptwriting, as well as new takes on the traditional genres of poetry and prose fiction. You’ll identify and pursue opportunities for writing in new media, cross-genre experimentation and creative production, while you learn about the business of making it into the market and becoming an author.

English – Literature¹

Gain new understandings of cultures and histories and the way they’ve manifested in text as you explore a range of literary forms, including plays, poetry, fiction, and creative nonfiction. You will be guided in critical and creative journeys through works by Shakespeare, major aesthetic movements like modernism, Australian literature, and literatures that engage with crucial contemporary issues.

Gender and sexuality studies¹

Explore the importance of gender and sexuality to our lives and to the society and culture that surrounds us. Through the study of literature and popular culture, history, sociology and major philosophical approaches to understanding human identity, you will discover how gender and sexuality are remembered, embodied, experienced and imagined, and how they shape our public and private selves in significant ways.

Award-winning university career service¹

DeakinTALENT will prepare you to secure the jobs of tomorrow. Our award-winning service is available to you from day one and will support you for the rest of your career. You’ll have lifetime access to career coaching, industry networking opportunities and a comprehensive suite of digital resources helping you develop the most employable version of yourself.

Work behind the camera with live broadcasting

Our communications and creative arts students gain invaluable industry experience working on real-world projects. For example, Deakin's film, television and animation students have had the opportunity to go behind the scenes and assist broadcasting the Women's National Basketball League competition through a live stream on Fox Sports. The crew of 19 students broadcast all of the Deakin Melbourne Boomers' home games.

Bachelor of Creative Arts (Honours) A450 🕒 1 📅 T1, T2¹

CAMPUS

B

Explore advanced creative projects and research through a Bachelor of Creative Arts (Honours). Honours is a year of specialised study that allows you to combine the theory and practical skills gained throughout your undergraduate degree. While undertaking an individual creative project, you will be supported in your development as an independent practitioner as you build your skills, critical engagement and depth of knowledge in your chosen area of study.

Careers

The Bachelor of Creative Arts (Honours) supports your development as a creative arts practitioner and builds your research skills. Graduates are critical and creative thinkers, are able to work autonomously and collaboratively, and are effective communicators. The degree provides a pathway for further learning and for practice within creative arts and cultural industries. After graduating, you can further your studies in research or professional practice by applying for direct entry into second year of the Master of Creative Arts by coursework, a Master of Arts by Research, or you could pursue a PhD.

Course structure

8 credit points of core units.

Get a head start in the creative industries

Study a Bachelor of Creative Arts and gain hands-on experience in the creative industries through a range of work-integrated learning experiences, locally and overseas. You could find yourself building practical skills and growing a network with opportunities such as:

- artist mentorship internship placements
- exhibition and arts festival team internships
- museum and gallery internships
- programming and curatorial internships.

1 Available in T1 and T2 for domestic undergraduate students and in T1 for international undergraduate students.
2 Graduate Outcomes Survey 2023, Quality Indicators for Learning and Teaching (QILT), based on overall employment for domestic undergraduates, 4–6 months after course completion, equal overall employment rate with Monash University.
3 Australian Graduate Survey 2010–2015, Graduate Outcomes Survey 2016–2023, Quality Indicators for Learning and Teaching (QILT).

NIKERI Institute

Deakin is committed to helping students from all backgrounds and locations achieve their dreams. That's why the National Indigenous Knowledges, Education, Research and Innovation (NIKERI) Institute provides flexibly structured courses to Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander students from all across Australia.

Our Bachelor of Arts course is offered through Community Based Delivery – where community teaches community in a supported environment, through a mix of online learning and on-campus experiences.

Indigenous Studies

Deakin also prioritises Indigenous Knowledges and offers all students the chance to enrich their understandings of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples' ways of Valuing, Being, Knowing and Doing. Taken as an elective in any course, these units promote co-contributions to positive reconciliation efforts alongside Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Peoples.

Pathways

There are many different ways you can get into an undergraduate course at Deakin. In fact, many students choose to take a pathway. If you are interested in studying at university but unsure whether you’ll meet the entry requirements for a bachelor degree, then look no further than Deakin’s Associate Degree of Arts. We’ve designed this course to offer students a supported learning environment and a pathway into Deakin’s Bachelor of Arts, Bachelor of Criminology or Bachelor of International Studies. Find out more at deakin.edu.au/course/associate-degree-arts.

1 Minor only (Geelong Warrn Ponds Campus).
2 UX means ‘user experience’.

‘The Deakin Melbourne Boomers livestream program was a valuable experience, helping me to develop broadcast skills that I otherwise would have struggled to attain. The doors that my tutors opened for me have also directly led to an internship and subsequent position at Basketball Australia.’
